

Hatch attacks Moss voting

Republican U.S. Senate candidate Orrin Hatch said he is not a bit surprised at the AFL-CIO endorsement of Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, in view of the latter's "straight labor union voting record."

The labor organization threw its support to Moss at its convention session Friday.

Hatch said Moss favors food stamps for strikers and recently voted for the Common Sense picketing bill. "This would force unionization in the construction field and ultimately result in the repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, doing away with the right of Utah and 19 other states to have right-to-work laws," the Republican hopeful said.

Election of a Democratic president and return of the Democrats to power in Congress will guarantee that right-to-work laws will be wiped out, Hatch said.

Charging that the AFL-CIO has inordinate control over Congress, Hatch said it is time for Utahns to regain control over their destiny by electing a senator who is not a captive of any special interest group.

He said he believes that members of unions are becoming aware that the inflationary policies of Moss and other liberal senators are robbing job opportunities in the nation and will cause a severe depression unless something is done.

AFL-CIO endorses Utah Demo hopefuls

Democratic candidates and incumbents for national and Utah political offices — with one exception — were endorsed by delegates during closing sessions of the Utah AFL-CIO 20th annual convention in the Tri-Arc Travelodge, 261 W 6th South.

The convention adjourned with delegates split on the Second Congressional District in which Republican Dan Marriott is opposing Rep. Allan T. Howe, D-Utah, and Daryl McCarty as a write-in candidate on the Democratic ticket. No endorsement was made.

Barry Nielson, campaign manager for Marriott, appeared on behalf of his candidate, who was ill, and was the only Republican to appear before the convention although invitations were extended to all candidates.

Following endorsement of the Carter-Mondale ticket, Charles W. Carter, Denver, national vice president of the American Federation of Government Employees, led the approvals by seeking endorsement by the group of Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah.

He said Sen. Moss was instrumental in saving jobs at Hill Air Force Base and currently is fighting the contracting out of Hill AFB precision measurement equipment lab and motor pool service.

Unanimous endorsements were given the following Democrats: Sen. Moss; Rep. Gann McKay, Scott Matheson, governor; David Duncan, secretary of state; Gilbert Athay, attorney general; Robert Swan, state auditor and Linn Baker, state treasurer.

Howe advised delegates to look at his record in which he said he acted as a journeyman or master and asked workers not to send an apprentice to Congress.

McCarty, a write-in candidate, told the audience he intended to bring about a victory for the Democrats.

Ms. Zelma B. Brundage, women's activities director for the Committee for Political Endorsements, presented awards to four women for volunteer hours given in behalf of the community.

Receiving awards were Denise Brundage, and Carol Reay, both 100 hours; Alton Higley, 500 hours and Vee Gehring, 17,000 hours. All are from Salt Lake City. A special award was given to Frank C. Lay, field representative.

Chickens, turkeys decrease in August

Chicken and turkey production was generally lower in August than a year ago, according to the Utah Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

About 31,000 turkeys hatched in August with no chickens hatched. This compares with 106,000 turkeys and 80,000 chicks hatched in August 1975.

The January-August accumulation of chicks is down 27 percent from a year ago while turkey production is up five percent.

The reporting service estimated 1.2 million layers existed in Utah on Sept. 1, 16 percent fewer than the same time in 1975. The rate of lay at 66 percent was almost the same as a year ago, but June-August egg production was 71 million eggs, 11 percent lower than in 1975.

A witness noted the license number of a second getaway car and Salt Lake City police traced the trio to Ogden where they were arrested without incident Friday. Clark Brown, special agent in charge of the Salt Lake City FBI office, said.

The preliminary hearing is scheduled for Oct. 12.

Sidewalk funds committed

Sixty percent of the $1 million appropriated for sidewalk projects to increase pedestrian safety has been committed, Blaine J. Kay, director, Utah Department of Transportation, said Friday.

He made the statement as Gov. Calvin L. Rampton signed a proclamation declaring Oct. 10-17 as Pedestrian Safety Week in Utah.

Earlier this year, the Utah Legislature appropriated $1 million in the Safe Sidewalks Act to improve sidewalks to school children safety.

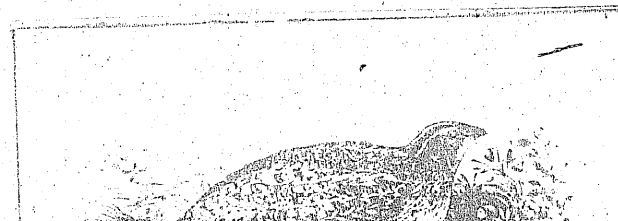

Many of the sidewalk projects are under way and the first will be completed in two weeks.

Murder hearing continued

The preliminary hearing for Louis J. Malek, accused in the beating death of 6-year-old Jeremy David Jensen, has been continued until Oct. 20.

Malek, 23, 680 W. 5th South, Bountiful, is charged with beating the boy to death during a birthday party in Mill Creek Canyon Aug. 21.

The victim, son of Mrs. Sharon M. Ramseyer, 2131 Lincoln St., Apt. 7, was found in a stream near the Terraces picnic area, five miles above the mouth of the canyon.
